

Toledo Naturalists' Association 85th Anniversary Banquet and Silent Auction

When: Thursday, November 8th

Where: The Ward Pavilion at Wildwood Metropark
4830 Central Avenue, Toledo, OH 43615

Speaker: Laura Keene

In 2016 Ohio birder Laura Keene embarked upon a yearlong journey with a goal of seeing and photographing as many species of birds in the ABA area as possible. During a year that got completely and utterly out of hand, she shattered the ABA photographed species record with 792 documented species, and was one of four birders to break Neil Hayward's 2013 ABA record logging 815 species.

In this presentation Laura shares her motivations for doing a big year, and the adventures involved as she travelled over 200,000 miles, to each corner of the ABA area. She will share the joy of her journeys - the sights, the people, the wildlife-as she lived her Big Year dream, immersed in the healing power of birding.

Laura is the former photo editor for the Ohio Cardinal and her wildlife photography has been published in Birding Magazine, National Parks Magazine, National Geographic, and multiple news outlets around the globe.
